WEALTHY SAN JOSE MERCHANT KILLED FROM AMBUSH

Rich Candy Manufacturer Is Murdered in Sight of Wife as He Reaches Home

SAN JOSE, Cal., Aug. 15.—Charles J. Hinds, a wealthy candy manufacturer was shot and killed by one of three men lying in ambush as he left his automobile at his home here early today.

The shooting was witnessed by Hinds' wife, who told the police she had just left the automobile. Mrs. Hinds declared that threats had been made against her husband's life before. There was no attempt at robbery, Mrs. Hinds said. Her husband was not even ordered to throw up his hands. One of the three men, she said, pressed the revolver against her husband's body, uttered an epithet, and fired three times.

The trio ran to their automobile which had been left in the street nearby and fled northward. Neighbors saw them in flight, and the police secured a fair description of them. All were reported as young in appearance, slender and one of them unusually tall. One, it was said, was clad in overalls.

Mr. and Mrs. Hinds had closed their place of business shortly after midnight and had just arrived at their home, which is located in Hawthorn Way, one of the fashionable residential sections of the city.

San Francisco police were asked to watch for the trio and a flying squadron of local police started out to scour neighborhood roads for the automobile used by the three in their getaway.

REV. RICKSECKER DIES SUDDENLY

On Sunday afternoon, Rev. J. J. Ricksecker, of this city, died, leaving a sorrowing widow and four sons.

Last Thursday afternoon he joined a group of friends in a game of croquet and was suddenly overcome with a paralytic stroke. He was removed to the Glendale sanitarium, where every restorative measure was tried without avail, and he died yesterday at 2:25 p. m., without recovering consciousness, at the age of 77 years.

He was of the Moravian faith and for 40 years served as a pastor in Maryland, Pennsylvania, Illinois and Ohio, also as a West Indian missionary, a familiar field, as he was born in the British West Indies.

He and his wife and his third son, Paul, came to Glendale last October to join two other sons already here, A. E. Ricksecker, 237 South Kenwood street, and Frank Ricksecker. The fourth son, Robert, is still in the east. Funeral services will be conducted by Rev. C. M. Calderwood, and will be held at the Jewel City undertaking parlors, Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock and interment will take place in Forest Lawn.

CARMONA FINED $25 FOR ASSAULT

Phil Carmona was fined $25 in Judge Lowe's court this morning on the charge of assault and battery on W. H. Linderwood of South Pacific. Linderwood said he was riding along East Wilson avenue on his bicycle when Carmona passed him in an auto; then stopped, rushed back, knocked him from his bicycle, beat him up, then threw the bicycle on his prostrate form. He claimed to have smelt liquor on Carmona's breath. The latter pleaded guilty to the assault but said he had drunk peroxide of hydrogen instead of liquor. He was fined $25 with the alternative of 25 days in jail. He paid the fine.

NET CHAMPIONSHIPS OPEN FOREST HILLS, L. I., Aug. 15.—Many of the world's brightest tennis stars bedecked the field of sixty-four entrants that started play here today on the courts of the West Side Tennis club, for the thirty-fourth national championship singles and doubles. Mrs. May Sutton Bundy and Mrs. Marshall McLean, two former national champions, were scheduled to open the exhibition matches.

GLENDALIANS COME HOME FROM MT. HERMAN

Howard L. Brown, 406 North Maryland, with his auto party, consisting of Mrs. Brown and son, Longston, the Misses Gertrude Heideman, Marjorie Yarrick and Nellie Warner, returned Friday night from Mt. Herman, where they had been in attendance at the Sixth Annual Christian Endeavor Summer Conference. The return trip was made in one day, the party leaving Mt. Herman at 6 a. m., covering a distance of 395 miles.

Others from Glendale in attendance at the conference were Mrs. J. K. Glickerson and daughter, Helen; Mrs. J. Rhea Baker who, with Miss Levy, is spending a few days in San Jose before returning to Glendale; Fred W. Hoffman, who came down from Oakland and spent a few days with the Glendale folks before leaving for his charge as pastor of a Presbyterian church in Kentucky. A number of the Glendalians have spent other vacations at Mt. Herman and both those who are "oldtimers" and those who had never been there before, vote Mt. Herman an ideal spot for a real rest and vacation. With its 400 or more acres of beautiful redwoods, firs and madrones, its trails and wonderful sparkling streams, opportunities for boating, bathing, tennis, etc., and a number of delightful side trips to the Big Trees and to Santa Cruz, it is a wonderful place for families to go for the much needed rest and recreation. There are numerous cottages which can be rented at reasonable figures, a store and cafeteria on the grounds, and a large auditorium where meetings are held each evening.

The Epworth League just closed a prosperous conference a few days before the Endeavorers opened theirs. The conference this year was well attended, closing with a registration of 231. Classes and conferences were held each morning, with a general assembly meeting just before the noon hour and the afternoons were given over to rest and recreation, special hikes, athletics, etc., being planned for large and small groups. One afternoon was spent at the beach at Santa Cruz, the Mt. Herman association assisting in getting autos to take the crowd down.

The Victory circle vespers services, held out of doors each evening just before the evening services, proved to be very helpful and inspiring, followed by an address in the auditorium by such speakers as Rev. Rowland B. Dodge, San Francisco; Rev. J. Birdsell Banker, Atascadero; Rev. Howard McConnell, San Jose; Rev. J. D. Springston, Los Angeles, and Rev. Bruce McDonald, of Berkeley, with Howard L. Brown, of Glendale, as song leader.

The conferences were led by some of our own Christian Endeavor folk, Paul C. Brown, Harry C. Allan, Edith McDonald, Mary Brown and others. Many people all over the state of California are looking to Mt. Herman as the place to spend their vacation, and many other families were there to spend the summer besides the Christian Endeavor folk.

Glendale was represented by thirteen, for it was discovered that W. N. Wright and sister, Miss May Wright, 124 West Doran street, were on the grounds and apparently enjoying the beautiful hikes just as much as anyone, and expect to return to Glendale the latter part of the week.

J. P. FANSETT KILLED IN MOTOR TRUCK SMASHUP

The victim of an accident in which he fell under the wreckage of his heavy motor truck which shot from its path on the Cahuenga grade, struck a telephone pole and was hurled into a ditch, beside the road, the body of J. Preston Fansett, 510 Vine street, was brought to this city this morning, after the surgeons of the Hollywood Emergency hospital had pronounced him dead.

Just how it happened no one knows exactly, except that the wreck indicated that the drive control broke, rendering the machine unmanageable. Passing motorists rescued the injured man and conveyed him with all speed to the hospital, but he was dead when they reached it.

Mr. Fansett was 45 years of age and is survived by a widow and three children.

IRISH OPTIMISTIC OVER OUTCOME OF MEETINGS

Erin's Parliament Expected to Authorize Further Peace Negotiations Tuesday

LONDON, Aug. 15.—Leaders in the Irish delegation in London were confident this afternoon that the Sinn Fein parliament at its meeting in Dublin tomorrow will authorize Eamonn de Valera to continue peace negotiations with Premier Lloyd George.

The critical Irish situation which was precipitated by the publication of exchanges between Premier Lloyd George and de Valera was canvassed by a full meeting of the British cabinet.

The Sinn Feiners are apparently less pessimistic than the English. One member of the Irish delegation described the situation as one "of optimism and promise," adding:

"Our view is that the exchanges between Premier Lloyd George and de Valera show clearly that neither will be quick to break off the negotiations. Nothing more can be said and nothing more can be done until the question is referred to Dail Eireann tomorrow. Then it is possible that the negotiations will enter a new phase."

English Not So Sure

Threatened with deadlock and a renewal of warfare in Ireland, the Irish peace situation reached its most critical stage today, according to the English sentiment.

There was a full session of the cabinet to consider the Irish crisis. Simultaneously it was said that it was unlikely that Premier Lloyd George would make a statement on Ireland in the house of commons this evening.

Questioned in the house of commons this afternoon, Premier Lloyd George stated that no amnesty had been granted to anyone in Ireland. He said that the release of elected representatives of the Sinn Fein was no precedent for the release of others.

"It is foolish to suggest that there is a substantial hope for peace," says the Dublin correspondent of the Daily Telegraph.

TAX REVISION NOW BEFORE CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—Republican members of the house will endeavor to take a final vote on the tax revision bill next Saturday, republican leader Mondell announced this afternoon when a republican conference was held to consider the bill. The house adjourned until 5 p. m., tonight, when it is expected the tax bill will be presented.

Democrats will caucus on the bill at 4 p. m. tomorrow afternoon.

WRIGHTS ARRIVE BY AUTO FROM NORTH

Will I. Wright, of Butte, Mont., arrived Sunday morning at 9:30 to join his wife in a visit to his sister, Mrs. Eva Hutton, 326 East Colorado street. Mrs. Wright drove down, accompanied by Miss Bessie Aldrich, arriving about two weeks ago. Mr. and Mrs. Wright will drive back, and expect to start Saturday.

Mr. Wright is auditor for the Boston & Montana corporation, which owns immense copper mines, smelters and a railroad.

His wife is county superintendent of schools. Mr. and Mrs. Wright expect to "do" Southern California this week, visiting, among other places, San Diego and Mexico. Friday night, Mr. Wright, who is an astronomer of considerable note, will visit the Mt. Wilson observatory.

Miss Aldrich, who joined her mother and sister here on her arrival with Mrs. Wright, expects to remain and teach in Los Angeles county.

BORAH OPPOSES NEW OFFICERS

(By International News Service) WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—Senator Borah, republican of Idaho, announced today in the senate that he would introduce a resolution to prevent adding of more commissioned officers to the army until such action is taken by the senate military affairs committee.

SOVIET GENERALS SHOT

LONDON, Aug. 15.—General Elenbovik and General Guter, members of General Brusiloff's war council in soviet Russia, and 64 other army officers, together with the wives of the officers, have been shot, according to a Reuter dispatch from Reval today, according to a report received there from Archangel.

WEST VIRGINIA TOWN BURNED

WHEELING, W. Va., Aug. 15.—The town of Richwood, Nicholas county, this state, is burning, according to telephone advices received here this morning. The loss at 9 o'clock was well into the thousands, with the fire still beyond control. Calls for aid have been sent to Summersville and other towns.

DEAD SEA QUINCE

BERLIN, Aug. 15.—Robert Stolz, a Vienna composer, has broken the world's record for the income received from a single piece of dance music, according to the Neue Berliner. His "Salome Foxtrot" has netted him 32,000,000 kronen in royalties. To figure out the wealth of the Foxtrot Millionaire in real money—an Austrian kronen is worth about one-tenth of one cent.

JUSTIFIABLE JUNGLECLIDE

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 15.—The "call of the wild" cannot be suppressed. A verdict of "justifiable jungleclide," therefore, has been rendered by George Vierbeller, of the Municipal Zoological Board, following the death of Mrs. Kitty Jaguar by Mr. Louie Lion. The door of the jaguar's cage was left open, and she attacked the lion. A bitter jungle struggle ensued before the indisputable prowess of the lion triumphed.

NO FRILL FOR ARMY WOMEN

BOSTON, Aug. 15.—After September hostesses in the United States Army will wear a bottle gray uniform. It is probable they will be allowed to wear also the Sam Browne belt, along with the privilege now granted to the nurses who are officers in the army.

Miss Louise Fleming, supervisor of the First Corps Area, is busy making preparations to have the hostesses in this corps ready to obey the order by September 1.

REV. COLE EN ROUTE TO WINONA LAKE

Rev. Clifford A. Cole leaves this evening for a three weeks' trip east. He will go first to Beaver, Okla., to visit relatives and then to various cities in Kansas. On Sunday, August 28, he will preach in his former pulpit at Compton Heights, St. Louis, and go the next day to Winona Lake, Ind., to attend the annual international convention of Christian churches. He is a member of the committee on recommendations to which all matters are referred to decide whether or not they shall come before the convention. He expects to arrive home September 8 or 9.

CATTLE RATES ARE UPHELD BY I. C. C.

(By International News Service) WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—The Interstate Commerce Commission today held that freight rates on ordinary live stock in carload lots, within the territory served by the western and mountain Pacific groups of carriers as defined by the commission in 1920, are not unjust and unreasonable.

C. OF C. TO HONOR PRESENT AND PAST CITY MANAGERS

W. H. Reeves and Tom Watson To Be Guests at Luncheon Tomorrow

Thomas W. Watson, the retiring city manager of Glendale, and William H. Reeves of Pasadena, who has just been appointed manager of this city, will be guests of honor at the regular meeting of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce tomorrow noon. The luncheon at which the retiring and incoming city managers will be honored will be held at the Crown Cafe, 128 North Brand. At this affair short addresses will be given by the guests of honor and also by members of the Chamber.

Secretary James A. Rhoades, of the Glendale Chamber, expects that a committee from the Tujunga Chamber of Commerce will be present to talk over the proposed extension of the Glendale - Montrose railroad to Tujunga.

Just as soon as something definite in the way of a plan has been decided on the committees from the two chambers will jointly meet with officials of the railroad to determine on some action with regard to the proposed extension.

SENATOR FALL LEAVES YOSEMITE

(By International News Service) YOSEMITE, Cal., Aug. 15.—Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall and Director of National Park Service Mather, broke camp in Tuolumne Meadows today and started over Tioga road for Lake Tahoe, concluding an eight-day stay in Yosemite Park during which they visited every corner of the park. They will meet Governor Emmet Boyle of Nevada at Minden, Nev., tonight. Governor Wm. D. Stephens has been asked to join in a conference there which will discuss reclamation and other projects.

A SAILOR'S LIFE IS GREAT, SAYS PAUL RICHARDSON

"It's no soft snap to work on a ship, but it's a great life to travel," writes Paul Richardson in a letter, which his mother, Mrs. Ella Richardson has just received, postmarked at Yokohama. It is dated July 28, and in it he says: "Dearest Mother: Arrived here yesterday morning, after having been out of sight of land for 21 days.

"The Japanese have been unloading our cargo of lumber and tying it into rafts to float ashore. It is only a 35-minute ride to Tokio, the capital of Japan.

"After we get unloaded here, which will be in about six more days, we will go down to Kobe, 500 miles south of here, to unload the rest of our lumber and flour. There is an English cruiser in the harbor here. The rest of the ships are Japanese.

"It isn't any soft snap to work on a ship, but it's a great life to travel. After we unload at Kobe, we will then have to get another cargo to bring back to San Francisco, or to take from there to some other port.

"There are always from five to fifteen sampan men with their boats to take us ashore. Later on, I will get a day off and then I will take a trip to Tokio.

"The big mistake of my trip was that I didn't bring money to buy silk and other stuffs. The ship paid us half our wages and then deducted from that what we owed the ship's chest.

"The hardest part of the trip was going from San Francisco to Portland with an empty hull, because the boat rolled so from side to side, but I am a hard-boiled sailor, so it was all right for me. Everything on the boat now seems so common, so familiar, while back in Portland I could write all about the old boat. It has an 8600-ton displacement.

"If we get a load that takes us right back to San Francisco, I will be there in time for college, but if we go on around the world, I will land in New York nine months from now.

"Give my best to all my friends. "Your son, "PAUL."

Final Action on School Bond Election Thursday

Board of Education Finds Former Authorization of $199,000 Is Already Too Small for Actual Needs of Present, Without Regard to Future Growth of City

SCHEDULE CANAL DEBATE (By International News Service) WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—The senate today agreed unanimously to vote October 10 on the Borah resolution to provide free tolls through the Panama canal of American coastwise vessels.

Superintendent Richardson D. White expects that a meeting of the Board of Education to be held Thursday night, final action will be taken in regard to calling an election to vote bonds for a new intermediate and for additions to several of the grade schools.

He says that board members feel they secured a sufficient expression from the mass meeting which authorized the election called for May 24. That election had to be abandoned because of the status of the district and of the board would change with the adoption of the city charter.

Can Increase Bonds

Now that the matter of providing the much needed school accommodations can again be taken up, the board has the advantage of a much increased bonding capacity. The former call was for $199,000, all that could be voted at that time. It was inadequate for all the needs of the district but it had to suffice. It is still less adequate now because the value of land that will be required for the new intermediate has advanced, and also the bond issue must if possible include a school house for the new Grand View district, which is clamoring for this provision.

Schools Need Additions

Additions are to be made to the Doran, Colorado, Columbus, Aquia and Pacific schools. The board has already advertised for bids to floor the two basement rooms in the Central Avenue school without waiting for a bond issue because some provision must be made without delay for the new students from the Grand View district.

Had the bond issue of May 24 gone through, work would have started on this building campaign. Under the present conditions after bonds are voted it will be the last of December or first of January before a foundation can be laid.

METHODISTS PLAN DRIVE FOR MONEY

The Board of Finance of the Central Methodist church will meet in the church, corner Palmer and Central avenues, tonight, for the purpose of perfecting plans for the financial drive which will be started late this week. The object of this drive is to raise funds for the paying off of the church debt, so that the mortgage which has stood against the church since its construction, may be burned on September 11, when the campaign is terminated.

COLLISION ON VALLEY ROAD

Frank Pizzolatto, driving a truck south on San Fernando road Saturday afternoon on the right hand side of the road, was run into, he said, by a touring car in which were several persons going camping. One of the passengers of the touring car, a young lady, was cut about the face, but not seriously.

HIGHTOWER REFUSES FOOD

REDWOOD CITY, Calif., Aug. 15.—Is William Hightower, charged with the murder of Father Patrick E. Heslin, on a hunger strike?

He has been a prisoner of the county jail here 24 hours and during that period has partaken of but a quart of boiled milk. He refused breakfast this morning, although County Jailer James P. Coleman offered to have prepared any food that he thought would prove acceptable to his "upset stomach."

"Hightower told me his normal weight is 180 pounds," said Coleman. "He now weighs 159 pounds.

"He told me this morning he had a couple of 'night mares' last night but otherwise the night was restful."

Hightower upon his being booked here was given a complete change of clothing and is in a cell isolated from the rest of the jail.

His desire for a typewriter and paper has been met.

Last night he told Jailer Coleman that one of the great disappointments of life to him was his inability to set to music poetry he had written.

JOHN BROWN OPENS PRAYER MEETINGS IN LOS ANGELES

The numerous friends in Glendale of John Brown, the noted evangelist, are planning to spend some time during the next three or four weeks at the series of meetings that was opened last night by Mr. Brown at the corner of Vernon avenue and McKinley street, Los Angeles. In this series of meetings Mr. Brown will be assisted by Song Leader, Otis Ironmonger, who has been with him for some time. The tabernacle to be used for these meetings in Los Angeles is the same one which was used in Glendale a couple of months ago, it having been purchased from the Glendale people and moved to where it now stands.

A program of special events has been planned for the Los Angeles campaign. Cards have been received by a large number of the Christian Endeavor workers of this city, informing them that Christian Endeavor night will be observed at the tabernacle on Tuesday, August 23. The Glendale boosters of the Christian Endeavor are hoping to have a delegation of 500 young folks at the tabernacle on that occasion.

Glendale people wishing to attend any of the meetings of this evangelistic campaign should take the Pacific Electric car to Sixth and Main streets. From that point take the San Pedro car and get off at Vernon avenue.

MOLA MOLA SPEED FISH IS ON COAST

(By International News Service) SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 15.—The "whatchacallit" has a name. To the average reader it doesn't clarify the situation greatly.

The "whatchacallit" is a mysterious fish, lacking a tail but possessing phenomenal speed, which made its appearance recently in San Francisco Bay waters.

Now come the scientists to announce that the tailless fish is of the branch pleopognathi of the genus molidae and of the species mola mola. In colloquial parlance they are known as "sunfish."

According to Dr. L. L. Jewell, the specimens taken in San Francisco Bay are mere infants. Fish of this variety, he said, frequently grow to weigh several thousands of pounds. They live normally in torrid and semi-tropical waters. He believes that a school of baby fish may have come here in search of food or may have drifted from their usual haunts by some unusual upheaval at sea.

The unusual fish has skin like a shark, a mouth like a sole, spikelike fins that protrude perpendicularly from its belly and its back, its eyes are about the size of a salmon's and unlike most habitants of the sea, it has nostrils.

VACANT PULPITS YAWN

BOSTON, Aug. 15.—The dearth of candidates for the ministry of the Episcopal Church necessitates the calling out of retired ministers from many sections of the country to take temporary charge of vacant churches in several parts of the country.

Bishop Lawrence, of the Episcopal Diocese of Massachusetts, thinks the difficulty will increase instead of diminish. Many lay readers have been employed this summer to fill the gaps made by vacant parishes in this State.

LOW RENT, IN GERMANY

BERLIN, Aug. 15.—The Duke of Arenberg has broken all records for kind-hearted landlords by renting his 190-room castle, at Nordkirchen, to the German Post Office Employees' Association as a sanatorium for the price of one paper mark annually. A little more than a cent a year. The contract runs for thirty years, the association agreeing to pay for the maintenance and upkeep of the castle.

FISHER PLANS SURPRISE

C. A. Fisher, proprietor of the oil station at 814 East Broadway, has just finished equipping his place of business. He says that business is good and that he will spring some surprise on the motorists of Glendale soon, in the way of a new line of goods.

SPUDS DOWN IN VIENNA

VIENNA, Aug. 15.—Has Vienna's soaring H. C. E. reached the zenith? anxiously inquires the Vienna Neue Presse, in proclaiming the good news that for the first time in years a turn has come in prices. Potatoes and sugar are cheaper; there are indications that other foodstuffs will fall.

These gentlemen who declare that we are rapidly getting back to normal are too hopeful. There hasn't been a massacre in Armenia for months.

A man who once complained because his wife used his razor to sharpen pencils now complains because she uses up all the cigarette butts he parks around the house.

"Martha Malicia Goes Shopping"

THERE IS A PRIDE IN OWNERSHIP

THE JOY OF MOTORING is only surpassed by the sheer delight of feeling your car respond to your slightest movement! So it is with the new Sheridan, at the CLUB GARAGE—107 East Colorado! A car that is most easily controlled and possessing "a world" of power in its well built engine—it is a joy forever! And the Sheridan is a car in which you will be proud to ride—and take your friends riding, for, deeply upholstered in the best quality, genuine leather, it "rides like a cradle." Then, too, the Sheridan is the last word in gracefulness of line and beauty of design—even the headlights are cleverly wrought of nickel! And you could never guess the price—it is almost too reasonable to be true—but call Mr. Murphy at the Club Garage and he'll be glad to tell you all about it!

Have in the kitchen all of the shelves and cupboards that can be conveniently crowded in. All will be needed.

THEY ARE GAINING

DAINTY ORGANIC VESTES are always attractive in their very freshness—but how much more so when cleverly hemstitched in, perhaps, squares or figures of contrasting colors! At BROOKS' SHOPPE, 123 North Brand boulevard, you may have lovely collar and cuff sets made in just such a manner—for they're very popular now! They will follow your own design, if you wish, or originate a becoming one! And they can be marked just as you want them, too, either with pencil or tailor's chalk!

A dinky carpet can be brightened by using a mop wrung out of tepid water which has had little ammonia put into it. Turpentine, too, is a good medium for brightening dark colors.

There is nothing better than kerosene for removing paint spots from porcelain or glassware.

CORRECT LIGHTING FIXTURES

are one of the most important points to be considered in furnishing your home! At the JEWEL ELECTRIC COMPANY, of 200 East Broadway, you'll be able to find just what you want in an attractive fixture, that is good-looking and bespeaks refinement at a most reasonable price! There are the daintiest of candle fixtures—an effect that is perfect in the small home—in a lovely combination of brown and gold or in a rich English Silver. Then there are the always popular ball lamp fixtures, in

THE BUILT-IN BATH IS IN VOGUE

WHILE BATHROOMS HAVE GROWN in beauty and utility in recent years, it has remained for the enameled all over, built-in bath, made completely in one piece, to add the finishing touch. It is only in keeping with the progress exemplified in numerous other household utilities, that bath tubs have progressed from just "bath tubs" to BUILT-IN BATHS! Mr. Sheehy of the GLENDALE PLUMBING COMPANY, of 134 South Orange street, says, "Money cannot be invested to better advantage than in a sure source of health and convenience to the entire household." The built-in bath represents the highest plan of sanitary efficiency, for being built into the floor and walls, the places, which in other days, formed gathering places for dust, dirt and moisture and caused the careful housewife so much worry and extra work—can no longer exist! The Standard Built-in Bath was the first successful one-piece sanitary enameled all over bath! The Glendale Plumbing Company are the local agents for the Standard Baths—and they are offered at popular prices, so that all builders may avail themselves of its advantages!

Colonial Gold and the prettiest Spanish Polychrome and Ivory and gold Polychrome. The Polychrome finish harmonize so exquisitely with one's living room furnishings that many people prefer them to all others. But for the dining room a large cast bowl of Alabaster Glass with golden rod hangers is ideal! It sheds so soft a radiance of light and shows off one's silver to such excellent advantage! And, another thing, at the Jewel Electric Company you may have the rod hangers wrapped in silk to blend with your draperies—and then the effect is truly delightful!

MARTHA MALICIA

Water in which onions have been boiled, if rubbed over picture frames will keep the frames free from fly specks.

YOU WILL BE OVERJOYED

YOU WHO ARE DESIROUS of good food will be delighted to know of the toothsome Merchant's Lunch which the ELITE SWEET SHOP of 134 South Brand boulevard, serves for only 45c. The entrees are always delicious—and as for coffee—well it is positively the best I have ever tasted, and, they serve real cream in it, too! But when it comes to desserts there is no place like the Elite for wonderful pies! They are all home-made, of course, but then you'd know it as soon as you had "sampled" them—for the fillings are always made of the most delicious fruits in season—and the pie-crust is—well, "just right!" When you're down town again, drop into the Elite about tea time for a dainty sandwich—and don't forget some of that wonderful coffee!

An excellent furniture polish is made of equal parts of kerosene, turpentine, and vinegar.

TAKE HEED!

DON'T LOOK LIKE A FREAK with faded and sunburned eyelashes and eyebrows—for it's entirely unnecessary! At WALCOTT'S BEAUTY SHOP, of 136 South Brand boulevard, you may have them permanently dyed their natural color—and harmlessly, at that! Mrs. Walcott only charges $2.50 for the treatment at her shop—and it's worth every penny of it, too, for discolored eyelashes are so unsightly! If you prefer to do them yourself at your own home—the price of a set is $5.00—and of course it can then be used time and again, just as often as you deem it necessary!

Castors on the legs of the kitchen table will enable it to be rolled to the refrigerator, stove, and dumbwaiter. This will save much heavy lifting.

RUSSIAN SALAD DRESSING

3 tablespoons mayonnaise dressing.
2 tablespoons olive oil.
1 tablespoon lemon juice.
1 tablespoon tomato catsup.
1 tablespoon chopped green peppers.
2 drops tabasco sauce.
Add ingredients, very slowly to mayonnaise dressing, stirring constantly.

THEY ARE CONSIDERABLY LESS!

FOR PARTICULAR PEOPLE, an over the world, the sign of Walkover Shoes is the sign of lasting quality and satisfaction! ZITE-LEEN, of 140 North Brand boulevard, carries the Walkover Shoes for men and boys, in a full range of sizes and styles. Yes, by the way, you can buy them for less money at Zite-Leen's than in the city!

Plain heavy linen makes beautiful napkins and tablecloths for use on occasions when they will be used only once. It wrinkles more readily than damask, and is not advisable for everyday use.

HIS JOY!

THE SATISFACTION of work well done is the joy of Mr. O'Neill of the EUREKA SHOE SHOP at 208½ East Broadway. When he has repaired a shoe you may be absolutely certain that it has been well done—for his workmanship is excellent and his materials are of the best! The prices are reasonable, too.

BUILDING PERMITS BY SEPT. 1 MAY EXCEED 1920

City Building Inspector Frank Marek Predicts Total of $3,130,000 Then

Frank Marek, building inspector, predicts that by the first of September the value of building permits issued in 1921, in this city will equal the total for last year.

Thus far the August permits have not kept pace with the corresponding period in 1920. That was the big month of the year because the permits for Glendale's two large hospitals were taken out then. However, permits at noon on Saturday totaled $190,000. The total for the year at noon Saturday was in the neighborhood of $2,608,000.

So many announcements of substantial business blocks soon to be erected have been made in the business district not to speak of church construction, that he considers it safe to make the prediction. Last year's total was $3,130,000.

NEW USE FOR AUTO; STOPS RUNAWAY CAR

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Aug. 15.—By lightning-like thinking, a willingness to take a chance on injury or death, and at the cost of a new coupe type automobile, William Scholle, musician of No. 219 East Liberty street, saved from death or injury sixty passengers on a cross-town car which was running backward down the Brighton street hill near the Fairview incline. He prevented the car, loaded to capacity, from plunging down the grade and into the traffic at the street intersection at the foot of the hill.

Scholle was driving up hill behind the street car when the latter conveyance paused, slipped back; and then, gaining momentum, rolled down the hill. He heard the screams of women passengers and saw the frantic efforts of the occupants to escape from the apparently doomed car.

Showing instant decision, Scholle set the brakes on his machine and threw it in gear. The street car hit it with a crash, pushed it slightly down the grade and then came to a halt, the wrecked machine acting as a check-block. The driver leaped as he set the brakes and one of his ankles was badly sprained. No one in the car was hurt.

In discussing the incident Scholle said: "When I started up the grade and saw the car coming down I thought the motorman was backing up to let another car by, but when I saw there was no escape I put on the emergency brake, threw the car into low gear and jumped. The street car jammed against my machine and the left rear wheel struck the curb, stopping the street car and holding it like a vise."

ANTI-CIGARETTE LAW IS OPPOSED IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Aug. 15.—Chicago women would like to see any old man take their smokes away from them!

They are up in arms over the proposed national legislation prohibiting smoking "by female persons." Not that they care so much about their violet-scented cigarettes, not at all. It's the principle of the thing.

"Men make laws that infringe upon our liberty as a sex? Indeed not! It is ridiculous for them to think of it!" Thus protests Mrs. Chicago.

One woman says: "It is absurd for men to try to regulate the habits of women. They ought to be ashamed of themselves for not being hard at work on something more serious and more important. Smoking is a matter of personal taste and it is not important enough to make legislation about."

"It would be a shameful thing for men to make a law of that kind," says another Chicago woman. "I am glad Miss Alice Robertson, the woman member of Congress, indicated she was not friendly to the measure. Women will not stand for that sort of high-handed legislation in a matter that concerns them."

The bill to prohibit smoking on the part of women was submitted by Representative Johnson, of Mississippi. It would provide a fine for women who smoke and for proprietors who failed to enforce the ban.

TAYLOR HAS FISH STORY

Perry Taylor of the Taylor Furniture company of 520 East Broadway, returned to Glendale late last week from a trip of two weeks in Santa Cruz county. During his visit he passed some time with his son-in-law, C. D. Evans of Santa Cruz. Mr. Taylor and Mr. Evans are jointly interested in a bee ranch up near Mr. Evan's home city. While away Mr. Taylor also journeyed far back into the hills where the finny creatures stay. He reports many fine catches of trout measuring from eight to twelve inches in length. He had the pleasure and satisfaction, also, of bringing down two big bucks.

While it took Dempsey four rounds to put out Carpenter, it is comforting to know that somewhere in the world there probably is a 100-pound woman that could put Dempsey out in one verbal round.

DR. CHALLINOR TO BE ENTERTAINED

A picnic dinner will be given this evening in Griffith park, in honor of Dr. Frederick Challinor, of England, who for some time has been visiting with Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Marple of Palmer avenue. A regular picnic dinner will be served at 6 o'clock.

Among those who will be present are Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Marple and son, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Marple and family, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Retts and family, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Marple and son, Mrs. Fannie Marple, William Marple and Dr. Challinor.

THE ROBERTS HOLD HOUSE WARMING IN NEW HOME

With the first evening party they have given since taking possession, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Roberts warmed their beautiful new home on Elk avenue last Saturday night.

It was a bunks party of five tables, and the guests had a gay evening. R. M. Brown captured first prize for the gentlemen, and Mrs. F. C. Weller the ladies' trophy. They were, if anything, more interested in the house than in the play, and the evening's

LOCAL MERCHANTS MEET BIG TOWN COMPETITION

Local merchants have long recognized the fact that their keenest competitors are not here, but in Los Angeles. The fact that many Glendale people continue to trade there is indicative that they believe Los Angeles stores are able to offer better prices than are obtainable here.

According to Martha Malicia, this assumption is in error. Having for several weeks a thorough inspection of the stock each local merchant carries and the prices he is charging, she is capable of making a comparison between values here and those offered in Los Angeles.

"I am in a position to say that prices in Glendale compare favorably with those of Los Angeles. I believe every person can buy just as satisfactorily here as regards prices and quality," asserted Martha Malicia today.

"The reason that merchants here, who naturally do a smaller business than those in Los Angeles, are able to compete on an equal basis with their larger rivals is because local dealers are cooperating to keep prices down."

An inspection of Martha Malicia's column as they appear in the Daily Press, three times weekly will readily convince the most skeptical of the advantage of trading locally. She will show how it is that values here are to your advantage to consider.

MRS. BURRINGTON ARRIVES

Mrs. Mary E. Burrington, formerly of 412 West Elk street, and who for the past two months has been visiting friends in Arkansas, has returned to her home in this city. Mrs. Burrington's intention when going away was to spend three months in Arkansas, but the heat became so intense that she was compelled to return to Glendale, where, she claims, the balmy breezes blow.

A Suitable Match

"I guess I'll marry Johnny Jones when I get growed up," said little five-year-old Elizabeth one day. "Do you really like him so much?" asked her mother. "Oh, no," replied Elizabeth. "It isn't that; but he happens to like the same kind of candy I do."

pleasure included a tour of inspection, also some piano numbers by Mrs. Boyer and Mrs. Dibbern.

A two-course luncheon was served by the hostess, those partaking being Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Lee, Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Sherman, Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Stamps, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lockwood, Dr. and Mrs. H. R. Boyer, Mrs. Newell, sister of Mrs. Boyer, and her nephew, Douglas Newell, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dibbern.

FROG-SCARING NAG IS CAPTAIN NEEL'S LATEST IDEA

"There are strange things done neath the Arctic sun," but tales reaching here from Mammoth, Calif., up in the high Sierras, would indicate that Glendale people spending vacations there are participants in events that would make the northern lights live with interest.

Perhaps the name of the place is productive of happenings. At any rate "mammoth" yarns are circulating about doings in Mammoth.

H. E. McCartney, of the Edwards & Wilkey company, with Mrs. McCartney and their son Jack returned to their home in Glendale a few days ago, having spent three weeks in Mammoth.

Mrs. McCartney Beats Record

The story of how Mrs. McCartney rode 14 miles on a saddle horse to the San Joaquin river and hooked a 14-inch trout which is just 9 inches longer than any other trout previously caught in that region, is being dragged of about town by her husband.

He admits, however, not having seen the fish himself and his wife explains that it slipped from her grasp as she was attempting to quell its ferocious struggles from the bottom of the boat she was angling from. Some Glendale folks at Mammoth were so unkind as to suggest that the horse-back ride accounted for her story.

However that may be, it is reported by Mr. McCartney that all of the local people summering up in the high Sierras are enjoying a wonderful time. Among the men who are competing with one another in an effort to set records for hunting, mountain climbing or fishing are Captain J. A. Neel, Harry Hall, A. J. Malarkey, Sam Malarkey, Claud Pulliam and John Legge.

Captain Neel's New Horse

Captain Neel has devised a scheme whereby the campers may now enjoy a complete night's rest without the annoyance of frogs, crickets and other forest animals. He has rigged up a wonderful, full-toned, cow-bell on the saddle horse he keeps for recreation. By letting the horse sleep in a darkened stall during the day it is able to be up and about all night and roaming through camp with the clanging bell it drowns out nature's noises, scaring frogs, etc.

The scheme is said to work with entire satisfaction. Mr. McCartney testifies that one night the horse went to sleep on its beat and the campers couldn't sleep a wink.

"Though we have been back in civilization for several days now," wound up Mr. McCartney, "Mrs. McCartney, Jack and I are just beginning to become accustomed to sleeping without the lulling harmony of Captain Neel's cow-bell."

"But just wait till the others get back to Glendale. Then you'll hear some real yarns. I mean one's that are made up."

And now when a stranger asks you to change a twenty-dollar bill you don't know whether he is trying to trick you or just showing off.

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Take a Glass of Salts to Flush Kidneys if Bladder Bothers You

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly back-ache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, you get four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

SARA COWEN'S TRAGIC DEATH RECALLS WILD CAREERS OF OTHER RICH GIRLS

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Sara Cowen, thirty-three, daughter of the late John K. Cowen, one-time president of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, died in New York a few days ago. An overdose of drugs, of which she was an addict, is believed to have been the immediate cause of her death. Alcoholism was also a contributing cause.

Another young woman of good family, whose life was once full of promise, came to the end of a gay life but a short one.

The announcement of Sara Cowen's death will recall to many the somewhat similar case of Bettina Girard and Florence Schenck, who both fell from rather high estate, became victims of fast living, with drink a great factor in their certain moral and physical decay.

Bettina Shocked Even Broadway

At thirty-six Bettina Girard died, leaving behind a reputation that shocked even blasé Broadway. As Betty Ordway, of Washington, daughter of General Albert Ordway, this girl, who possessed great beauty and charm, found that life of a society belle did not afford the excitement she craved, so she decided for a stage career.

The beautiful Bettina never needed a press agent. Her own exploits, carried out in a perfectly natural and off-hand manner, required no touch of any writer's imagination. But she became a slave of drink and was often arrested on charges of intoxication and disorderly conduct, till finally she died a pitiable wreck.

During the years of her mad career her father, it is said, died of a broken heart. Her husband, her first, since she had seven altogether, was a millionaire. Her wedding to him was a great event, but only three months after the brilliant ceremony the bridegroom asked divorce.

She might have succeeded upon the stage with all her natural charms were it not for her enemy and bad habit, drink.

Florence Schenck's Wild Career

Florence Schenck was another who, after sad experiences, warned girls against drink. The daughter of Dr. Powhatan Schenck, of Norfolk, Va., she ran away from home with a horse trainer, employee of Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, had a varied career, finally coming home to die after her father had removed her from a sanitarium. Like many who have followed similar modes of life, she sought solace and pleasure in drink, but ended by warning others against it. To a woman who once went to interview her she said:

"Tell girls that in the wine cups lies death and destruction. Once in the toils, no escape. It is the first step, and it is fathomless and pitiless."

"The girl who drinks is lost; she knows not what she does. She is not responsible."

"Oh, these girls who run away from home and take up with strange idols, no human tongue can tell what they suffer."

"Tell them," she begged, "that when they become physically wrecked and can add nothing more to the amusements of the tempter they will be deserted and humiliated."

This may be a late day to repeat the warnings against drink, yet I know we hear a great deal about another pernicious habit, that of drug taking. In another period Sara Cowen, who died a few days ago, might have had the drink habit. In this day she gave herself up to the influence of narcotic drugs.

Clara Ward's Tempestuous Life

when the strains of the gypsy violinist Rigo's music called her. She was the daughter of Eber B. Ward of Detroit, at one time the richest man in Michigan. He was himself eccentric, but his daughter surpassed his oddities. She gave up her education in Europe at seventeen when she was heiress to $4,000,000, and married Prince de Chimay. Many affairs of the heart were credited to her.

One night, in a Paris cafe, she heard Rigo's alluring notes. Not long after the two dressed as gypsies, eloped and finally married after the Prince obtained a divorce. It was said Rigo stole her from the embraces of kings. But "gypsy love" proved very expensive for Clara Ward.

The American Princess bought Rigo a palace on the Nile, a private menagerie, a prince's wine cellar, Arabian horses and other substantial expressions of love.

Later she left Rigo for a porter she met on a train in Italy, and from then on Rigo felt free to seek other admirers.

Not long ago, in an East Side restaurant, where he fiddled for sightseers, Rigo was informed of the extravagant Clara Ward's death. He expressed his regret, but was not profoundly sorrowful for the woman who took him up in such luxurious fashion only to leave him later.

To all these young women death seems to come as welcome release from the disillusionment and accumulated worries that have crowded into their short lives.

INDIANS ORGANIZE A BIG MEETING IN SOUTH DAKOTA

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—The marked advance of the Indian in progress and civilization will be illustrated during the four days, August 19 to 22, when several thousand Dakotans will assemble in convocation at Oak Creek, South Dakota, under the leadership of the Right Rev. Hugh Latimer Burleson, D. D., Episcopal Bishop of the District. The Indians will come from points within a radius of several hundred miles, in all sorts of conveyances, making a picturesque procession across the prairie, bearing aloft the banners and crosses of the church of which they are communicants. On the banks of Oak Creek they will erect a city of tepees, in the center of which will be reared an open-air tabernacle for the devotional features of the convocation, which will also include a business meeting, at which they will be addressed by the new Federal Commissioner of Indian Affairs.

The convocation will be wholly religious in character, as distinguished from Frontier Day celebrations and County Fair attractions, and is designed to bring together in close communion the Sioux and other tribes men from the Rosebud and surrounding agencies, who, under the administrations of Bishop Burleson and his predecessors, have made remarkable progress in the ways of Christian civilization. Its special significance at this time lies in the fact that the Centenary of the Missionary Society of the Episcopal Church is being celebrated this year; and the meeting will serve to illustrate this advance of the Indian under the contributing influence of the missionary movement during the past hundred years. On August 22 the convocation will terminate, tepees will be struck, and the Indians will follow the trail across the prairie to their peaceful occupations on the farm and in store and shop.

SCOUTS' CAMP SITE IS SECURED AT LYTLE CREEK

The question of a camp site for boy scouts of Glendale was settled when Ben Robison, the scout director, visited Lytle Creek canyon last Saturday and through the courtesy of Dr. Coburn, of Riverside, secured the use of one of the most beautiful spots to be found there, between two streams and bordered with big trees.

The scouts will leave for the camp next Monday morning at 7 a. m., and Mr. Robison has all sorts of plans for their pleasure. He camped there with a group of Pasadena boys and therefore is familiar with trails and beauty spots to be investigated. The hikes he has in mind include a trip to Bonita falls, the ascent of the middle fork of Lytle Creek and a trip over the Cajon Pass.

Mr. Robison anticipates not less than forty scouts will be in the party. They will be taken to the camp site by truck and each boy will carry a stock of provisions for the eight-day stay, for they are to break camp the 30th.

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.

DIMINISHING LIFE'S JOYS

Now comes one Dr. Charles Hazzard of New York City with the announcement that asparagus causes "blues." The gentleman is lenient, however, and adds that it is only because the human system is so filled with impurities that the asparagus "is the last straw" which "produces a physical state of brain and nerves" commonly known as the "blues."

But what would the epicurean do without asparagus? A dinner is a dinner, no matter what else is served, if only there is a dish of asparagus over which has been poured piping hot butter. The palate knows no greater joy than that delicate sensation caused by the touch of asparagus drawn in butter. And what more could be added to a lunch than a dish of creamed asparagus tips on nutbrown toast! Ah, there is a portion which makes a man forget the capacity of the human stomach!

The real joy of asparagus, however, is declared by some to be in the growing rather than in the eating. Those who can start and keep up a magnificent asparagus bed are almost as rare as the few remaining Southern mammys who cook with a pinch of this and a snatch of that. It is an art by itself. The soil must be perfect, the tiny shoots must have the proper amount of mulching and light. But there are scores of books telling how to grow asparagus. The fact remains, however, that something must be done which is not told in the books, some touch of the artist's hand must be added to make the perfect asparagus bed. If you have ever known a man or woman whose backyard asparagus bed is all that can be desired, then you have known a genius.

And so, if the joys of eating asparagus and the greater joys of growing it are to be continued, keep your body fit or you will get the blues. At least, that is Dr. Hazzard's warning. Asparagus no less than liberty has its cost.

Hardly less amazing than the wonderful powers of radium which have been popularized by the recent visit of Madame Curie are the new results of experimentation made by a noted French scientist with the X-ray. It has been lately demonstrated that an X-ray can project rays of light through a thick wall more than 25 feet distant from the source of the rays. The wall through which the French scientist photographed metallic objects was composed of the following layers: marble plate more than an inch thick, a foot of solid oak, four inches of plaster and one-eighth of an inch of lead. The rays filtered through this thickness and the machine photographed objects on the other side. The wonders of the X-ray and radium provides the imagination with an enormous stimulus. It becomes easy to believe that even stranger forces than these may exist somewhere in the cosmos, unknown to man of today, but to be fathomed in some future century.

The Minneapolis Journal reminds the sweltering citizens of Minneapolis that only six and one-half miles from that city the temperature is 60 degrees below zero. But to reach this cool retreat one must go straight up.

The oft-repeated question: What kind of a car does Mr. Ford ride in? may now be supplemented by the question: What newspaper does Mr. Harding read?

It may be an impertinent, irrelevant question, but why does the portly lady at the cafeteria always get twice as much to eat as the average person?

The brewers say it costs more to make near-beer than real beer. Lots of people are willing to let the brewers practice a little economy.

Prohibition may not be a reality in this country, but for many people the price is prohibitive.

GRAVE AND GAY

Mis-Named

"Did you get me that new hay knife I ordered?" asked the boss, as the new "hand" returned from a trip to town.

"No," replied His Nibs, "because the storekeeper insisted on giving me a little saw, and I didn't want to waste time arguing with him."

As Interpreted

It is better to give than to receive," admonished the clergyman. "Dat's what I figger, when it comes to exchangin' blows," answered Sam, the Slugger, strapping on his eight-ounce gloves.

Mrs. Pester—I see the Heehaws had to give up their apartment. I wonder why?

Her Husband—Keeping domestic animals in it, I reckon. According to the neighbors he's a jackass, his wife's a cat, his son's a puppy and his daughter's a bird.

A Symptom of Senility

"Uncle Dunk is getting along in years," regretfully said a resident of the Ozarks.

"Eh-yah!" replied an acquaintance. He's som'ers about eighty-one, ain't he?"

"Yes, and I skurceely ever seed a man so old for his years as he 'pears to be of late. He rid into the county seat with me tuther day. We got there about 9 o'clock in the morning and before 5:30 he came around whur I was talking swap with some fellers and 'lowed that as he didn't know nobody in town skurceely, and hadn't any business there no-way, and nuth'n had happened of any interest so fur and didn't 'pear likely to, he was just about ready to go home. Uncle Dunk is feeling his age powerful."

"That fellow didn't have much trouble in selling you a life insurance policy."

"No, I figured I'd better insure in a hurry. I thought he was going to talk me to death."

Jumped at Conclusions

The "Boss" (issuing his morning orders)—"John, I want you to take a header into the barley field today."

The "Green Hand"—"Sorry, sir, but I took one into a rock pile yesterday, and I positively refuse to ride that mule again."

A Toast

A health to the girl that dances like a dream.

A health to the girl that writes verse by the ream.

Or toys with high C in soprano: To the girl that can talk and the girl that cannot.

To the saint and the sweet little sinner—

But here's to the cleverest girl of the lot.

The girl that can cook a good dinner!

The man who says a college education doesn't help a farm boy has never observed the startling effect a college yell has on a slow plow mule.

WOMAN'S COZY CORNER

By JOSEPHINE FRANCE

Table Manners

Table manners are not what they once were. For instance, in 1855 if you left your spoon in your cup, it was a sign to your hostess that you had all the coffee you wanted. If on the contrary, you laid your spoon in the saucer, she was expected promptly to offer you more.

The spoon-in-cup practice goes much further back than 1855, of course. A generation before that, cups were often made without saucers, and at table, were set on mats. It was then the height of carelessness to lay a spoon on the tablecloth.

If we could transport ourselves to the dinner table of an average American family of the fifties, we would find other differences besides teaspoon procedure. The dinner hour would be noon, for evening dinner was a rarity even in large cities. In all probability the dining-room would have dark walls and a towering black-walnut sideboard. In the middle of the table a silver caster, tall, shiny, and replete with the condiments sung by little girls when they skip rope—pepper, salt, mustard, and cider vinegar. Oil is conspicuous by its absence, for few Americans of the fifties would touch it. Is it any wonder that salads, eaten with vinegar and sugar only, were unpopular?

Father and mother sit at the sides of the table, not at the ends as is the custom now.

A white funeral urn stands in front of father, who, rising to lift its cover, tucks his napkin into his vest. We blush to think the poor man should know no better! Mother is taking a pin from her belt and affixing her napkin so that it cannot slip out of her lap. Although it pains us to see her do it, we ought to realize that the lady was instructed in this maneuver by one of the best etiquette books of the fifties.

The secret of the funeral urn is revealed when the cover is removed. It is a soup tureen, of course, and there beside it is the gigantic silver ladle.

But what is that fence of knives, forks and spoons built around each person's place? This is the average, everyday way of laying the table as it used to be practised in this country, with implements disposed at careless angles, and goblets put anywhere within reaching distance of the diners. The family progresses speedily from oyster stew to roast chicken.

Father carves, daughter serves beads from a covered dish into saucers, while great-aunt Sarah apportions summer squash in yet more saucers. Meanwhile, mother has doled out a few leaves of lettuce to such members of the family as like it. Of course no tomatoes accompany this delicacy, for "love-apples" are still distrusted as food.

Look! What is mother doing now? Yes, she is cutting up her lettuce, unconscious of her social error. We are glad to see that she handles her fork in the approved way, laying her knife on the right side of her plate, as soon as she has cut a few pieces of meat, and transfers the fork to her right hand before conveying the food to her mouth.

But, oh horror, there is great-aunt Sarah at the far end of the table eating with her knife! She dates her training from the era when Americans had only two-tined forks and it was impossible to pick up food with them.

Our attention is distracted from Aunt Sarah by a rattling of dishes. The family has consumed an astonishing amount of chicken and vegetables, in record time and each eater is now "stacking" plates and saucers, knives and forks. These stacks are passed to mother, who, by leaning back in her chair, succeeds in placing them on the sideboard, in unappetizing array.

The meal over, a small container of toothpicks is passed among the diners.

At the present-day table, mathematical precision is the rule. Beginning at the left of each "cover" are the forks, laid perfectly straight with times up, the fork at the outside being the one that will be needed first. The napkin, neatly folded, is at the left of the forks; and above them, almost touching their tips, stands the bread-and-butter plate on which are placed butter, bread and a small silver butter-spreader.

At the right of the "cover" are the knives, exactly parallel and with the blades turned inward. Further to the right lie the spoons, the one to be used first being on the outside, and above the knives stands the glass of water.

When it comes to the actual serving of meals, the average family has hit upon a happy solution. To a daughter, or even a son, is assigned the task of waiting on the table, and children thus acquiring a useful bit of household technique.

They learn, for instance, to pass dishes to the left of each person at table. In setting down a cup of tea or coffee, they go to the diner's right.

In clearing the table after each course, the volunteer waiter or waitress, going to the right of each person, removes two plates at a time, one in each hand. These are placed side by side on a tray, standing on a serving table, or on a tea wagon. When either of these receptacles is filled, it is taken into the kitchen. Before dessert is served, the table is crumbed, and glasses refilled.

But let us not be too proud of our superiority over 1855. Our grandchildren may blush to think their grandmothers ate without disinfecting their hands.

STUDIO NEWS AND GOSSIP

May Allison is contented though idle.

Publicity for picture directors has so far failed to get over.

Lucille Carlisle is not Larry Seamon's leading lady now.

National censors will pass on Universal's million-dollar picture to the theaters.

T. Roy Barnes' humor is "dry" and yet he always gets it across.

Monroe Salisbury is still planning to re-engage in the production of pictures.

Although called "that virile actor" Wallace Beery is not figuring in police court records.

Wallace Reid now knows that he's not the only picture star in his family.

The fact that Charles Clary is a happy dad will not make him a better actor.

Bobby Vernon has decided that he is not cut out for a pugilistic career.

Many dimmed stars are now saying

JUST AVERAGE PEOPLE

The Average Woman

Gets up at 7:30.
Puts on kimono and bath-slippers.
Gets downstairs in time to kiss husband good-bye.

Dawdles over breakfast.
Reads letter from Cousin Kate.
Looks over the advertisements in the morning paper.

Dresses for luncheon engagement with Myrtle.
Discusses other women, servants, husbands and the high cost of living as they lunch.

Takes Myrtle shopping.
Goes home to dinner.
Tells husband Myrtle bores her to tears.

Puts on kimono and bath-slippers again.
Fusses when husband tells her he is going to the club.

Cries a little and looks at herself in glass.
Reads fashion journal and yawns.
Combs hair and puts it up in kids.

that they prefer stock satisfaction to the bright lights.

The cry for youth and brains is scaring some of the studio publicity hounds almost to death.

Crook caps, puttees and megaphones no longer are popular in the best cinema circles of Hollywood.

Lew Cody is still kidding himself into trying to believe that he is not the champion he-vamp of the screen.

Colleen Moore is now so popular that she is thinking seriously of dispensing with a press agent.

Some of the make-believe denizens of the cinema capital are now finding that life, after all, is filled with stern realities.

Rouge-faced ingenues are returning to the manicure parlors from which they emerged in answer to the call for "dolls."

Natalie Talmadge is now trying to convince herself that by marrying Bruce Keaton and retiring from the screen she forfeited $104,000 a year.

Goes to bed singing "Another day wasted."

The Average Man

Gets up at 7 o'clock.
Decides it is too late to take a bath.

Shaves.
Dresses and goes down to breakfast. Devours an egg, a cup of coffee and the headlines in the newspaper.

Kisses wife.
Makes for nearest means of transportation to city.

Hangs onto strap.
Reaches office; reads mail.
Dictates letters; goes to lunch.

Meets friend and they go to ball game.

Bets on home team. Loses.
Goes home cross.

Wife informs him he is to go with her to Browns' theatre party.

Gets into evening clothes, swearing meanwhile.
Wants to go to poker party at club. Gets home at midnight, disgusted.

Tumbles into bed, groaning "Another day wasted."

Glendale Chapter of the American Red Cross is planning an intensive campaign for used clothes for shipment to needy persons in Central and Eastern Europe. This phase of the foreign production program is being conducted in cooperation with the American Friends Service Committee.

Nation-wide appeal for contributions of used clothing is being made through The Saturday Evening Post, The Ladies Home Journal, and The Country Gentleman, in which prospective donors are instructed to get in touch with the nearest Red Cross representative or Chapter.

The call is for all kinds of warm and serviceable clothing in good condition, or for materials out of which to make garments. The local Chapter will receive contributions during August, and every interested citizen in Glendale is urged to remember that some garment he can do without may be just THE garment that will save the life of some suffering child. Garments for all ages are badly needed. They should be clean and in good repair.

Distribution is made in Czechoslovakia, Austria, Hungary, Poland, the Balkan and Baltic States, by the American Red Cross, through its Child Welfare Units, and other distribution machinery, and in Poland, Austria, Germany and Russia, by the American Friends Service Committee. Working in close cooperation in the countries in which both organizations are active, their representatives are careful to avoid duplication of effort.

Clothing may be left at the fire stations on East Broadway and Los Feliz road, and also at 347 North Brand Boulevard.

MRS. H. E. BARTLETT,
Chairman.

LOCAL ENDEAVORERS RETURN

Three Glendale young women, Miss Ethel Preston, 452 West California; Miss Nancy St. Clair, 1250 South Maryland and Miss Elsie Wilson, 317 North Belmont, have recently returned from a six weeks' absence in the east and report a wonderful trip. While in New York city, they attended the World's Christian Endeavor convention, at which the registration totaled 16,000, representing nearly every country in the world. California was represented by 35 delegates. William Jennings Bryan, Dr. Ira Landrith and Dr. Francis Clark, president of the World Christian Endeavor Union, were the principal speakers at the various conferences. One of the outstanding features of the convention was a parade, which marched a distance of about 50 blocks, 16,000 strong.

RECORD SALE OF TICKETS

The sale of Southern Pacific tickets in Glendale during August promises to be a record-breaker. Burt Ray, who has temporary charge of the local Pacific Electric station, says that the sale of S. P. tickets during the first half of August is tremendous for a city of this size.

BUILDING PERMITS

From present indications the end of August will see the building permit total for 1921 near the three million mark, as it is not far from $2,500,000 now. Permits issued since Saturday's report, up to noon today, were as follows:—

BARNES-SHUCK CONCERTS

On Friday afternoon last, a delightfully informal recital was given at the Barnes-Shuck Music company, and this is only one of a series planned for the future. The crowd who came to hear this recital was larger than has been expected and additional seats had to be procured and over one-half the store was filled by 3 o'clock. These recitals will constitute a preview and pre-hearing of every public concert, or musical performance in Glendale and Los Angeles and the information given at these recitals will add to the better understanding and enjoyment of the artists and their offerings. The next recital will be on Friday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock.

FOSTER CLUB LUNCHEON

Ladies of the Foster Bridge Club were entertained Friday with an elaborate and beautifully appointed lunch by Mrs. Alexander Lapham at her home at 415 West Broadway. A red and yellow scheme was carried out with marigolds from the garden of the hostess which centered the table. The guests for whom covers were laid were Mrs. S. B. Morse, Mrs. Helen Campbell, Mrs. C. E. Norton, Mrs. E. W. W. Hayward, Mrs. W. W. Ramsay, Mrs. Mabel Rudy and Mrs. A. H. Montgomery. Play followed the luncheon, in which Mrs. Campbell made high score and received the prize of the afternoon, a piece of pottery.

SNEAK THIEVES ROB CAMP

J. T. Walker of San Francisco, who was touring with his family and stopped over Sunday in Glendale, camping near the new reservoir, complained to the police this morning that a lady's Waltham watch was stolen from the tent while they were away yesterday afternoon.

MISS THAYER GOES TO ANAHEIM

Miss Mable Thayer of 120 South Kenwood street, who for several years has been supervising principal of the manual training departments of the Glendale schools, will have charge throughout the coming year of the manual training and mechanical drawing departments of the Anaheim high school.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Sir Thomas Lipton, one of the grandest and without a doubt the greatest sportsman the world has ever known, is going to try once more to lift the historic America's Cup.

Four times, over a period of twenty-two years, has Sir Thomas attempted to win back the silver trophy, originally hung up in England and won and held in America ever since the first race around the Isle of Wight, seventy years ago the 22d day of this month. Four times this great yachtsman has met with disappointment, but he has not given up hope. He will make his fifth attempt in 1923.

The next challenger will be Shamrock V. Sir Tom will build her next year and sail her across the broad reaches of the Atlantic to try his luck once more over the famous Sandy Hook course. Announcement of Lipton's intention gave the American sporting public a thrill of deepest admiration for him. He has spent thousands upon thousands of dollars in his efforts to win a "mug" that originally cost but one hundred guineas, and he will spend another small fortune in his fifth try.

When the Shamrock IV. and the Resolute got away for their 1920 series sentiment was with the Lipton yacht because of the gameness and persistence of her sponsor. So it will be again in 1923 when Shamrock V. spreads her wings in the breeze off the old Hook. No one can say this sentiment is a lack of loyalty. Such stick-to-it-iveness deserves victory.

Larry Hansen, the durable Dane, has had 356 fights, but there's many a durable husband who has him beaten to a frazzle.

The more we hear of that Downey-Wilson imbroglio the more we are reminded that they don't make all the cheese in Holland.

"Jack McAuliffe has abandoned the ponies for the stage," says a headline. Jack abandoned them because they alienated his bankroll.

A Dempsey-Willard shindig is just in the offing at this writing. Tex Richard is feeling the big Kansan out and seeking to draw out the public as well. Tex is a shrewd bird. He pays more attention to public opinion than he does to the fighters, and Willard's chances of getting a match promoted by Tex will depend largely on what the boxing public and the press say about it.

From this distance a Willard-Dempsey match, providing Willard really can and honestly will get into gon-dition, looks like the only logical one in the near future and it will probably be made in due time. But we also believe that Willard should prove his fitness in a physical way by taking on at least one big husky before he meets Dempsey. A good many boxing fans have often speculated on what a Willard-Fulton match would be like, and it appears that such a match ought to be a good primer for Willard if he CAN GET INTO SHAPE. Dempsey beat Fulton in one round. If Willard cannot beat the big plasterer he has no right to a return match with Dempsey. In the event of a Willard-Fulton match Dempsey should agree to take the winner.

Michigan athletics are going to hurry up in all departments from now on. Sports at Ann Arbor will be given a new shot of ginger and it will be well for rivals to look out for the Wolverines. Why?

Well, old man "Hurricane" Fielding H. Yost is at the head of everything athletic at Michigan. We could have answered the question with just one word—"Yost"—a word that speaks volumes to readers of the sport pages.

For twenty long years Yost has been the boss of Michigan football. In that time he has turned out some of the greatest gridiron teams and stars the country has ever known and his record is emblazoned with success after success. He had won his reward—the dictatorship of all athletics at Michigan—and no man was ever more deserving. Good luck to you, ole "Hurricane."

It may be a cruel cut, but we are prompted to remark that Jack Johnson will probably feel natural in every State where he is barred.

AIN'T IT THE TRUTH?

The big league stars pull many thrilling plays. They crash into the spotlight every day.

Yet, after all, their grandstand stuff is dull. Compared to plays that savor of the skull.

A shoestring catch brings thousands to their feet.

A wallow in a pinch is hard to beat. Yet such plays die with momentary cheers. While bonehead stunts live on for years and years.

Georges Carpentier is studying the pictures of his fight with Champ Jack Dempsey. No doubt he gets groggy every time he looks at the fourth round.

MISS M. A. SPENCER BRUNT ROUNDS OUT SPEAKS ON WORK OF MISSIONARY $10,000 CONCRETE COURT PLAN

As a farewell to Miss M. A. Spencer, who is returning to her mission field in Japan after a year's furlough in this country, a reception was held in the Casa Verdugo Methodist church the latter part of the week. Miss Maude Soper heading the committee of hostesses.

The evening began with a brief program, opened with a prayer and a hymn. Miss Spencer was then introduced by Miss Soper, and gave a graphic account of her work in that far away land, which combined humor, pathos and much information of a general character.

At the close of her talk, she was presented with several tokens of regard, including a very beautiful bouquet of asters from a Japanese friend, a dozen linen napkins, a silver pen-knife, and other gifts. Messages of farewell from other churches and friends not present were read, and just before refreshments were served, the company joined hands to form a circle, and sang "Blest Be the Tie that Binds."

August Price Reductions

During the latter part of July and so far this month we have reduced prices on many important staples, including Sugar, Milk, Syrup, Canned Fish, Flour, Honey, Breakfast Foods, etc. We believe the low price limit has been reached on many of these items—in fact sugar has already made two advances recently and higher prices are expected. When you buy groceries from a Rock Bottom Store you know you are getting them at the lowest market price. Rock Bottom gives its customers the benefit of any price reductions immediately they are received, and our patrons have grown to rely upon their Rock Bottom Store as a guide to fair prices.
